GATWICK AIRPORT
DETAILED MOVEMENT and NIGHT PERIOD ANALYSIS BY AIRLINE OPERATOR
AUGUST 2024

Appended below is my regular monthly detailed report summarising both the daily movements at Gatwick and details of actual night period movements by airline for the month of August 2024. These are based on official Eurocontrol sources as downloaded and recorded each day online on The Original Gatwick Spotters List.

August is considered usually peak season and there has been the inevitable, albeit relatively modest, increase in the aggregate number of movements with the average daily movements during August 2024 being 860 (July was 850). The equivalent in August 2019 was 908 per day – hence Gatwick showed a 94.7% recovery against pre-pandemic levels (down from the July figure of 95.8%).

As to Night Movements, full details are, as always, provided and this month the level of night movements were broadly similar in comparison with both July and with pre-pandemic levels as adjusted for the reduced number of movements in aggregate. But, once again we would highlight the significant increase in early morning departures in the 0500-0559 period in comparison with 2019.

It is hoped that these analyses will assist in making informed representations in regard to the current regulatory consultations and committees.

Overall Summary of Movements.

Appendix 1 shows the numbers of movements each week since July 2021 and shows this month's movements had increased to an average of 860 per day; up from July's figure of 850 per day but still 5% below the equivalent level of pre-pandemic movements.

Appendix 2 shows a daily movement count for each airline with EasyJet continuing to dominate operations at Gatwick. Again, little has changed month on month on the short-haul services, although, perhaps in the light of the DfT's refusal to unlock weekend flights at London City, BA Cityflyer now have regular Sunday flights into Gatwick. And, once again, the Titan Airways fleet at Gatwick has been fully utilised in operating on behalf of TUI and British Airways rather than undertaking their own charters.

In the long-haul arena, again little change although Air-India has added another 3-4 services a week. Notable absentees which have not returned from 2019 include Taiwan's China Airlines and Hong Kong's Cathay Pacific together with Rwandair and, of course, Virgin Atlantic (though the latter claims to be interested in returning and is reported to have retained its slot rights currently leased to other carriers).

Analysis of Night Period Flights

Appendix 3 below provides details of all movements by airline and time during the Night Period from 2300 to 0659; including the 'core' period of 2330 to 0559 where the numbers of movements are, at least in theory, subject to regulatory capping (there remains controversy as to a number of mechanisms which allow flights in excess of the cap).

In the period from 2300 to 0659; the hourly figures (half-hourly for 2300 and wef 0500) were as follows for August (July 2024 in brackets):

	Landings	Take-offs
2300-2329	385 (374)	66 (69)
2330-2359	362 (351)	52 (43)
0000-0059	509 (518)	34 (31)
0100-0159	350 (331)	14 (6)
0200-0259	288 (291)	4(2)
0300-0359	139 (156)	2 (1)
0400-0459	93 (80)	3 (2)
0500-0529	10 (23)	53 (41)
0530-0559	13 (24)	292 (281)
0600-0629	142 (138)	448 (451)
0630-0659	206 (203)	468 (446)

Arrivals in the Night Period in August were not dissimilar to those in July with arrivals aggregating 2497 (as against 2489 in July) – an average of 80.5 per night (July: 80.3; June: 74.1). Night Period departures slightly increased in comparison with the previous month and totalled 1436 (July - 1373) an average of 46.3 per night as against the July average of 44.3 per night.

Comparisons with 2019 (pre-Covid)

Appendices 4 and 5 set out the equivalent data for Gatwick movements pre-pandemic so one can compare both the extent to which Gatwick has recovered and also to note what has materially changed so to assist in considering the possible future traffic movements. While there have been, as previously related, some significant operator changes between 2019 and today, the overall mix is not dissimilar with still a heavy concentration on short-haul low-fare European flights.

First, looking at total movements for equivalent weeks, we see this for August (2019/2024):
Week One: 6345/6029   Week Two: 6356/6001   Week Three: 6341/6062   Week Four: 6356/6059

The overall traffic recovery levels were thus 95.0%; 94.4%; 95.6% and 95.3% in comparison with the equivalent pre-pandemic period.

In regard to Night Movements, we compare the current month with the equivalent in 2019 and in 2023.

Core Night	1912	1908	1764	273	370	454

This comparison shows that the number of night arrivals in August 2024 were again broadly comparable to the 2019 figure, if allowance is made for the lower overall number of movements and they are also similar to 2023. The overall level of night departures was, on the same basis, slightly higher than the 2019 figures and more than last year. Departures were again notably higher during the core night period – once again continuing and indeed increasing the trend towards very early morning departures, predominantly by EasyJet.

The Night Flight regime is still awaiting the outcome of the review by the DfT although its Consultation document favoured 'kicking the can down the road' pending both an analysis of ongoing recovery trends as well as consideration of reports on the health impact of sleep disturbance caused by night noise. Obviously, the noise levels of departing aircraft will generally be likely to cause more sleep disturbance and hence the significant increase in the 0500-0559 period continues to be identified as a matter of concern.

Over the coming months, in response to requests, I intend to undertake and report on research into the trends on night flights over a longer period.
